Cadence of a Deep Call: a Call to Practice the Presence of God

There are times in our lives when we feel the presence of God. The way we feel the presence of God is different from person to person. Jacob felt the presence of God at Bethel when he ran away from the hands of his brother, Esau. He was fearful, tired and helpless. The angels showed up in his dream to comfort him. Moses felt the presence of God on the top of a mountain through a burning bush. Miriam, sister of Moses, felt the presence of God when the Red Sea was divided in front of her eyes. Hannah felt the presence of God while she was praying in the temple. King Saul felt the presence of God when David played the harp to cure his evil spirit. Apostle Paul and Silas felt the presence of God when they were praying in prison.

I have felt the presence of God in many different ways. Sometimes I feel the presence of God when I have solitude in the parsonage where I can watch birds, grass and the trees. Sometimes, I feel the presence of God on a lofty mountain, at a mighty running river and on green prairies. Many times, I feel the presence of God in my fellowship with my brothers and sisters in Christ. Their unselfish kindness, their heart-felt confessions, their radical hospitality and their unswerving service for the Lord have inspired me to walk the second miles in my life.

I believe the greatest way to feel the presence of God is in church. More than any other time and any other places, I feel the presence of God during the worship services in the beautiful church building, in the chorus of visible and invisible saints, in the holy presence of the worshippers, in the unceasing prayers of the prayer warriors and in our unique responses to the spoken Word of God. Then, I say, "My soul, my soul, I can rest in Thee. I have seen the glory of God here and now."

God speaks to us if we practice the presence of God. Practicing the presence of God means to be conscious of His divine presence around us, to be attentive to His love and grace. It takes a special attentiveness to hear the still voice of God. The Bible tells us to "be still and know that I am God." (Psalm 46:10) Beauty does not shout. Grace does not yell. Love does not scream. Our finest mood is not clamorous. The picture of Jesus that we need to remember in order to hear His voice is: "Listen, I stand at the door, knocking; if you hear My voice and open the door, I will come in to you, and eat with you, and you with me." (Revelation 3:20)

CHILDREN & YOUTH

Pastor Sheena returned from being away during the month of July at Duke Divinity School. The children & youth have had an eventful time since her return.

On August 1st, we celebrated being back together by enjoying ice cream and fellowship at The Scoop on Main. We said farewell to Kollin Filman who left to attend The School of Math & Science in Durham. We are so proud of his accomplishments. We love him, support him and will greatly miss the humble and happy spirit he brought to our youth group! We are also proud of our youth group members who have summer jobs but certainly missed them.

On August 8th the children & youth spent time at Pelican's Snowballs in Shallotte. We played games and hung out in the cool scenery while we enjoyed our sweet treats and conversations

Kollin

On August 13th, the rising 8th graders and high school ladies from Camp's youth group had an awesome time together. Madeline Chandler shared some stories of her special experiences with us and she gave a beautiful devotion on the importance of keeping our hearts in check through life's many journeys. We presented her with a pair of shades for her very bright future and sent our love with her to college at UNC, Chapel Hill. We were very excited to be welcomed into the beautiful home of our church family hosts, Roy & Sian Chipley who had an abundance of tacos and cookies for us. After eating we played games and went swimming. We are very grateful, thankful & blessed to share these times of love & joy together and we look forward to many more.

On August 15th, we had a great turn out at Magic Mountain Water Slides in Holden's Beach! We were happy to have our children from Mother's Morning Out join our children & youth group from Camp. Everyone had so much fun!!! Magic Mountain's owner and Ms. Lisa from Mothers Morning Out here at Camp UMC, hosted us with a very gracious discount. They also gave us free pirate's treasure ice cream!

WHY SUNDAY SCHOOL?

"Sunday School is everybody's business! It is also everybody's responsibility. Everyone needs it, and all should have it. It creates stronger homes and better citizens. It develops faith where previously there was no faith, and it strengthens the testimonies of those who already believe. [It makes] the gospel a reality in [people's] lives." Mark E. Petersen, elder
Church of the Latter-Day Saints

"Sunday School offers Bible training for all members of the family, everyone from preschoolers to senior adults. Sunday School builds relationships in the church. It's in the small group structure of Sunday School that we connect with people who become the glue that ties us to the local body." Chuck Lawless, professor

NEWS FROM THE OUTREACH TEAM

HOMELESS & JAIL MINISTRIES

A big thank you for giving items for Streetreach homeless population. So far we've taken 2 large loads of supplies to Donna and Garry Phelps who were very grateful.

Thank you also to members who donated to the Angel Tree Summer Camps for prisoners' children. With money from the Outreach budget and donations from Camp members, and children were able to go to summer camp.

SCHOOL MINISTRY

In August, the Outreach Team donated $200 each to Shallotte Middle School & Union Elementary School to purchase supplies for needy children.

On August 23, members of the Outreach Team, Preacher Won and Pastor Sheena went to visit Guideway Elementary School (just across the Columbus County line, 30 minutes away). School supplies, underwear and socks collected by CAMP were given to the school. There are only around 150 students in the school. Most of the children are Hispanic whose parents are migrant workers. The staff at Guideway Elementary are excited that Camp is concerned about them. School supplies are still needed.

Union School Prayer Partner Packets. School is starting and the wonderful staff at Union Elementary need our prayers and support. This ministry started 10 years ago. Each month a Camp Prayer Partner sends a card (provided in a packet) and prays for his/her partner. Sign-up now. You give encouragement and are blessed. It's a win-win, we sow and God reaps the harvest. Contacts are Joan Henderson and Trisha Poulos.

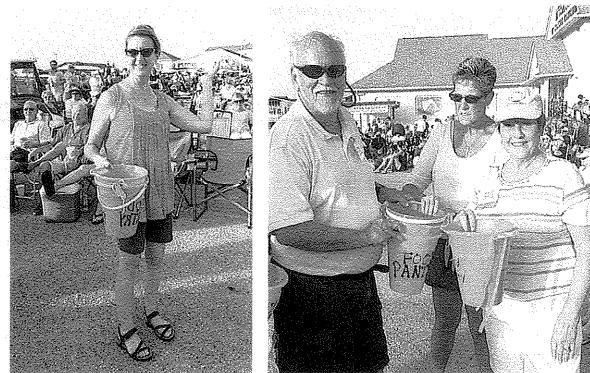

AGAPE BOXES

The boxes for Armenian children are due at Camp by September 23rd. The shoeboxes have to be clear plastic and only specified items are to be placed in boxes. The lists are short and the items inexpensive. The Outreach Committee will be glad to take donations and shop for anyone who would love to help, but doesn't have the time.

FOOD PANTRY

Thank you to everyone who donated to the recent CAN-PAIGN for the Food Pantry, including the Bible School kids! We do not have an exact count, but it appeared that we met the goal of 500 cans. CAN we collect CANS again next year?

Camp received $7,800 for the Food Pantry from the Ocean Isle Beach Concerts.

HAITI MISSION TRIP JUNE 13, 2018-July 2, 2018

Martha Worsley answers questions about her trip

How did you first feel "called" to this mission? I was inspired by Helen Little of the Raleigh District UMW. She personally built an orphanage years ago. She would come and speak to area churches to ask for donations: $100 would dig a well, $300 would build a classroom and $500 would put in a playground. Now my colleague, Paula Heidrick of Cary, NC, has built a children's home where we are involved. There are 13 children who are available to sponsor. $40 per month goes directly to help with each child's needs. Five sponsors are needed for each child. People can go to the home's website for this home by googling, The Village of Dugue Children's Home.

What was your schedule like? For the first ten days of my trip, I worked with a local pastor (who is also one of our translators) at his church where I gave sewing lessons to 60 students. This picture shows the members of the sewing classes. You can see the many items they proudly display: drawstring bags, pillow case dresses, t-shirt dresses, and colorful tutus. The pillow cases and fabric/sewing kits that many churches here put together, were very appreciated. Prizes were awarded to the top sewing students. I left the five sewing machines down there in hopes they will continue to meet at the church and sew.

Martha with some village children

For the second week, we had the school where over 200 children rotated among five stations: art, music/dance, English, outdoor games, and soccer. A part of our team also worked on a house that was funded by a United Methodist church in Spartanburg, SC. Paula organizes the team events and activities which conclude with a community worship service after which rice and bean are distributed.

How did the project to build a home for Jimmy come about? Through Facebook I keep in touch with my Haitian friends. Jimmy, one of our translators, reached out to me to help his family get out of the dire living conditions where they currently live. Mother, father, sister, brother and Jimmy live in a one room underground cave with no electricity, running water or bathroom facilities. Jimmy supports his family with the money he earns as an interpreter. Hopefully, Jimmy finished business school and he took his exams while we were there. He and his family came to church with us on Sunday and we were able to take pictures of his new lot where his new home will be constructed. The houses that our young men build, are constructed out of cinder blocks. These young men, aged 30, are trained engineers who have no work unless we raise funds to build houses. The houses usually have three bedrooms, a bathroom and eating area. Most cooking is done outside. Paula has raised funds to build seven houses so far. Jimmy's house will be number eight. The lot for the house has been purchased. Only $4,000 is needed to start construction. A widow is next in line for a house. Our goal after that is to build an English school on the grounds at the children's home. During the day, the school building will be used for minor medical treatment, requiring a nurse. The school will employ our interpreters to teach English to the village children.

What is the food like? The food in Haiti usually consists of rice and beans with an occasional piece of meat which might be chicken, fish or goat. Everywhere I visited, the hostess wanted to prepare a special meal for me! One of my favorites was prepared by my best sewing students from last October. We visited her orphanage a couple of times to borrow the sewing machines that I left with them last fall. I replaced one of their old machines with one of the new Brother machines that I brought on this trip. Rebekah prepared crepes for me with a chicken pate filling topped with a cheese sauce. So delicious! Marjorie, her orphanage director, is doing a fantastic job teaching these young girls sewing and cooking skills. Marjorie is a nurse, owns a hospital, and just got ordained to be a minister. She and her husband run the orphanage out of their church. Marjorie is an AMAZING woman about 55 years old. She is an inspiration to me!

Sewing students with their projects

Paula & Marjorie

Notes from Martha: Paula Heidrick is an amazing woman who has taken God's challenge to do so many great things in Haiti. Not only does she raise the sponsors for the children's home, but she also raises money for the building projects that provides so many needed jobs in the village of Dugue. On this trip her vehicle was robbed at gun point on the way to the hotel from the airport. Her response was: "This is Satan trying to stop my good works in Haiti, and I will NOT let Satan win!" What a testimony to us all! I have brought back beautiful bracelets (made from cereal boxes) and tin art that is made from recycled oil drums, if anyone is interested in purchasing to help the people of Haiti. Thank all of you who have supported Haiti with your donations.

Julianne Donoghue joined Martha for the second part of the trip.
She answers questions below.

How did you decide to go on this trip? I felt led to travel to Haiti after meeting Martha Worsley back in July 2017. She had just returned home from her first trip and was sharing her experience with the Joy Circle which happened to be meeting at my parent's house. Her passion and enthusiasm for the trip was contagious and I felt like that is something I would love to be a part of. She posted information about the trip on Facebook and I felt God calling me to reach out for more information. I prayed a lot before deciding that God was calling me to go.

What did you do why you were there? While we were in Haiti, we led a camp for the kids in the village there. I was responsible for the dance and music class. The children would rotate around to each class and join in on the fun! We sang "This is the Day" and "Jesus Loves Me" each day. We also danced to the Cupid Shuffle, "Happy" by Pharrell Williams, "Can't Stop the Feeling" by Justin Timberlake, and the Chicken Dance. It was great to see the children having so much fun while dancing and singing. We were also able to travel around the country of Haiti while we were there. It was very eye-opening to see just how much poverty there is. You truly can't even put into words how little many people we saw had.

What impressed you most? I was most impressed by the way the people of Haiti live out their faith. Many people in Haiti live on less than $2 a day. Many of the kids we saw had holes in what shoes they did have. At times it was overwhelming to process. What the people of Haiti do have is faith. They do not find their security, protection or joy in the things they own. They find their security and joy in their faith in God. They rely on His faithfulness to bless them amidst their struggles. I learned from many of the people we came in contact with what living out our faith really looks like.

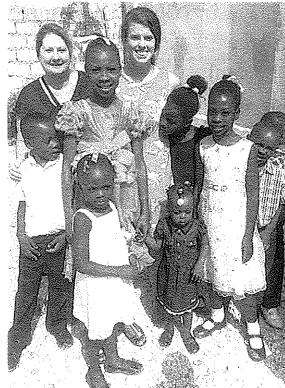

Now what? Going forward, I can't wait to share my experience in Haiti. I want to encourage people to support the work that is being done with the housing project through financial gifts and more importantly through their prayers. I also look forward to the opportunity to go back and to continue to develop the relationships with many of the people we met. You can look at a place like Haiti and be overwhelmed with where to begin to give back and how to make a difference. But God has equipped each of us with how to play our role in making the world better. If we are all able to do our part, whether we are the hands or the feet or the mouth, together we work as the body of Christ.
