

The Circuit Rider

January 2022

Throughout last year we soaked in this word from God: "For I know the plans I have for you, "declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." from Jeremiah 29:11. We explored this passage in worship, committee meetings, and small groups to shape our imagination and awaken us to the hope we have in Christ. As we step into God's good future in the new year we have a new theme scripture to help shape our lives together.

2022 Theme Scripture

Using the imagery of a fruitful vine we are invited into the abundance of life that comes from abiding in the mystery of Christ's love. Each day of this new year let us find ourselves drawing closer to the One who nourishes us with life. All that we are and all that we do as a church, as the body of Christ, is made possible by the gracious love of God. All the fruit of discipleship, of worship and of mission comes as we learn more and more to abide in Christ. Apart from Christ we can do nothing. I am so grateful for all the fruit I have seen over this past year at Camp. Over this next year, let us wonder deeply and learn what it means for us to abide in Christ. Let us discover the joy of what it means for Christ to abide in us. What does it mean to be a branch connected and dependent on the vine? What kind of fruit will we bear in 2022?

The theme verse is part of a larger teaching section Jesus offers in John 15 that gives insight into the doctrine of God, Christ and the church, and calls us into the commandment to love one another as Christ has loved us. This invitation to abide as a branch connected to a vine connects us with the promise and power of the Holy Spirit to comfort us in our fears of the future. This passage is to awaken us to our dependence on God as well as our connection to each other. The closer we, as branches, are connected to the vine the more fruitful we will be.

In 2022, I encourage you to spend time with this passage by regularly incorporating it in your private study and prayers, in your committee meetings, small group studies and Sunday School classes. Hopefully you will discover the love of God in a deep and profound way as you learn to abide.

I look forward to seeing the fruit of worship, discipleship, and mission that comes as we abide in together in Christ, but more so I look forward to our church community receiving and sharing the love of God as Christ abides in us.

Peace in Christ,
Pastor Steve

New Year's Prayer

"Heavenly Father, for this coming year
Just one request I bring.

I do not pray for happiness or any earthly thing.
I do not ask to understand the way you lead me;
But this I ask - teach me to do the thing that pleases You.

I want to know Your guiding voice,
To walk with you each day.

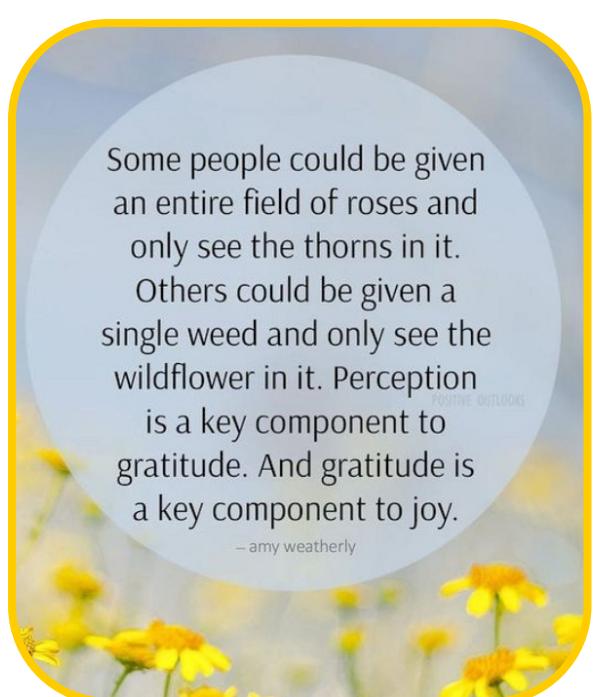

Heavenly Father,
Make me swift to hear and ready to obey;
And thus the year I now begin
A happy year will be,
If I am seeking just to do
The thing that pleases You."

Some people could be given an entire field of roses and only see the thorns in it.
Others could be given a single weed and only see the wildflower in it. Perception is a key component to gratitude. And gratitude is a key component to joy.

CHURCH COMMITTEE RESPONSIBILITIES IN A NUTSHELL

FINANCE COMMITTEE

The Finance Committee annually presents a budget for supporting the mission and vision to the church council for review and adoption. It is responsible for developing and carrying out plans to raise enough income to support the budget that has been approved. It arranges for an annual audit of financial records and makes a report of this audit to the charge conference. The committee prepares an annual report to the church council of all designated funds that are separate from general funds (e.g. Memorial Fund, Mission donations, Friday Night Meals, Altar Guild, (etc.).

PASTOR PARISH/STAFF RELATIONS COMMITTEE

The SPPR Committee counsels pastor and staff on relationships with the congregation, priorities, skills and goals, and conveys these priorities, skills and goals to the congregation. It develops and recommends to church council staff positions and job descriptions for staff other than pastors. It does annual evaluations for pastor and staff to encourage effective ministry. "The committee will cooperate with the pastor(s), the district superintendent and the bishop in securing clergy leadership."

TRUSTEE COMMITTEE

The Trustee Committee has oversight and care of all church property, buildings and equipment. This work is done in consultation with the pastor. Trustees receive and administer all gifts made to the congregation and ensure that the congregation's trust funds are invested properly. Trustees ensure that the Articles of Incorporation of the congregation are kept up-to-date. This committee submits annual budget requests to the committee on finance for property maintenance and improvement and new property purchases.

UMC Book of Discipline

LAY LEADERSHIP COMMITTEE

The Lay Leadership Committee identifies the skills, gifts and spiritual leadership of church members. It matches potential leaders with various positions. The committee helps church members discern their gifts and equips them for service through training and support. The committee presents a nomination list to the charge conference for:

- a Church Council Chair
- a SPPR Committee and its chair,
- a Trustee Committee
- a Finance Committee and its chair, financial secretary and treasurer.
- a Lay Member to Annual Conference
- a Lay Leader.

The committee works with the church council throughout the year to identify other leaders for ministries that fulfill the mission of the congregation.

AT-LARGE-MEMBERS

These individuals serve as representatives of the congregation. Their votes and "voices" are recognized as reflecting concerns of the members of the congregation,

A VERY SPECIAL EXPERIENCE

On October 6th, I got up from a very restless night. I had not slept well and had a lot on my mind and on my heart. I took my son to school. On my way back home as I was driving down my street, I noticed this little guy in the road. I pulled to the side of him thinking he would fly away as I approached. As I went by, I noticed he did not move. I looked in my side view and he was still there. I parked my car and started walking towards him. I expected him to either fly or at least start struggling to get away. He did not move. I walked straight to him and picked him up. He never attempted to struggle away from me as you can see in this picture. I did not have to restrain him at all.

I examined him and saw no sign of injury. Yet I knew something was not right. I pulled him close to my heart and began to gently pet him. I decided I would take him to the CNC. They help a lot of wildlife. It would be a couple of hours before they opened. As I continued to hold him, there was an immediate bond. He would look me right in the eye and put his beak to my nose. I was finally able to take him to CNC. Unfortunately for this little guy, they do not take songbirds. Only birds of prey. However, they were kind enough to examine him. Upon examination, they were able to determine he had a broken clavicle. They told me just like for humans, it is very painful for the birds. They thought he had been hit by a car.

CNC recommended a place to take him. It is located in Decatur, which was going to take a little over an hour one way with traffic. I had a full day and did not know how I could do it. As I sat in the car trying to decide what I was going to do, he sang. I stopped my thought processes and looked down at him. He was looking at me from the little box I had him in. As I continued to look at him he let out a couple of more little notes. Tears began to fill my eyes. Here this tiny little creature was, in pain with a broken clavicle, and yet, he still sang. I sat there for a few minutes just looking at him. I reached over and gave him a gentle stroke on his head and said, "Thank you, little guy."

I called my office and asked that all of my meetings for the day be rescheduled. I called the songbird place and a wonderful woman, Nancy, told me to bring him in. I took off for Decatur. When we arrived, Nancy examined him and confirmed he had a broken clavicle but also said that his air sacs were full and needed to be released. She explained to me the process and told me he had a three to four-week recovery ahead. She let me know that some make it and some do not because of the uncertainty of what he may have going on internally due to being hit. She also informed me that if he did make it, then at the end of his recovery, he would need to be released where I found him. (Cardinals generally have a family.) He had a rough road. There were a couple of times she wasn't sure he was going to make it, as he stopped eating a few times. He pushed through though. and I was able to pick him up and release him back into nature.

I share this experience with you because this little bird reminded me that we can still sing even when we are struggling. When we are struggling and in pain, we can still make a difference. He reminded me that every living thing is significant, no matter what. If it has life, it deserves love. It is a birthright! He reminded me to stop, take it slow, and always, ALWAYS, let love lead. On a day when I was struggling with some pretty heavy things, he reminded me to...sing!!

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

Happy New Year friends! "I am the vine, you are the branches." Thanks be to God for our opportunity as a church to reflect on John 15:5. I am excited to see how our children's program bears fruit in 2022!

December was a busy month for our kiddos! 8 children participated in our Parents Night Out event on December 4th. We gathered for a time of holiday movies, fun, and games while the parents went out on a date. On December 12th, 28 children performed in our Christmas Program. Camp Kids took our first "field trip" to the Daily Scoop on Main as part of our Christmas party on December 15th. Finally, we said "see you soon" to our precious worker, Kara. She will be missed!

We are delighted to kick start our "Spring Series" on January 5th from 5:30PM-7:30PM in the new building. Camp Kids will meet every Wednesday with food, beginning January 5th. If your child hasn't participated in our Camp Kids program, we'd love for him/her to come check it out! The kids and parents group will continue their studies exploring Genesis and Exodus.

This month, I'd like to praise God for all of the new friends that have joined our volunteer programs. Eight (8) new people have agreed to join our Children's Church program! This means that our nursery/children's church program is on a once every 3 months volunteer rotation! Thanks be to God!

MARK YOUR CALENDARS

Jan. 5th 5:30PM-7:30PM

Camp Kids resumes. Parents group will continue to meet at the same time.

Jan 9th 9:45AM and Jan. 12th 5:30PM-7:30PM

New Acolyte training. A child must attend two training sessions in order to be an acolyte. If you need to miss either of these dates, let me know and I'll reschedule.

Jan. 23rd 9:45AM

Safe Sanctuary Training. Background check paperwork and training will take place. The session should not take more than 20 minutes. If you are working with children, youth or vulnerable adults and haven't attended the training in the past two years, you must attend.

I pray that you all have a wonderful New Year and celebrate the love that Jesus has for you!

In Christ,
Allison Hunter
Director of Children's Ministry

The youth ended the semester and year with a crazy fun Christmas party where we played rounds and rounds of Extreme Bingo and closed with a gift exchange. There were nineteen of us gathered to partake in all the festivities! Kevin and I are grateful for all the fun times we enjoyed this entire semester together. Youth Group will resume on Wednesday, January 5th. Confirmation class will resume on Sunday, January 9th. We pray that the Christmas season was a time of peace, love, joy and hope for all of you..

Looking ahead we are counting down to our trip to Lake Junaluska for their Youth Winter Retreat on from January 14th-17th. We have 11 youth and 3 adults ready to learn and grow and play in the snow!

LOCAL MISSIONS

Mission of the Month - First Responders

What would life be like without first responders? We would not be safe. We would be on our own in personal safety issues, during medical emergencies and when a fire is happening. Fortunately, we do have these brave men and women "on the job" for us. It's time to let them know their work is appreciated.

Plans are currently underway for Camp to show its appreciation to the first responders. (Details will be coming soon.) In the meantime, we encourage you to reach out to the first responders serving your communities. Examples of what some of our members have already done:

Linda Callendar has been providing beverages, packaged snacks and sweets to the Shallotte Fire and Police Departments.

Carol & DB Grantham, Elizabeth & Harrison Smith, John & Kay Cox and Rick & Cheryl Pinson provided meals for the Ocean Isle Beach Fireman on Thanksgiving and the day after.

Kimmie Durham treated a Brunswick County Sheriff officer to lunch at Sonya's Grill.

These are just a few ideas of how you might show your appreciation, if you would like to do something now.

And, of course, continue to

Have you been thinking about becoming more involved in the life of the church?
Some opportunities to consider are:

TELLER: You would be a part of a team that counts the offerings on Sunday mornings. There is a rotating schedule, so you would not be committing to a weekly job - maybe every six weeks or so. Contact Doug Hunter (douglas.hunter@ymail.com) for more information.

LORD'S FOOD PANTRY: There are a variety of ways in which you could help with this important ministry. Contact Jim Antunes (fusionjim1@yahoo.com), Gary Conselmo (garyconcelmo@gmail.com) or Marlene Mellis (marlenem1@aol.com) for more information.
